Injuries:

A Time – Out will be called if one or both competitors are injured. The main judge will take a look at the injury and decides if the match can go on or not. If needed the judge can give the injured competitor 1 – 2 minutes for medical attention. If a competitor can not go on the competitor who caused the injury will be disqualified. This is not if the injured ran in to a controlled technique. If a competitor can not go on in a match he is not allowed to re-enter the competition.

If both competitors aren't capable of continuing the match than the winner of the match will be the competitor who was in lead at the point. The winner will keep the place he won with the victory, but can not re-enter the competition to a later time.

If there is a draw at the injuries time both competitors will keep their place but can not re-enter the competition.

The sparringtime for individual competition will be 2x2 minutes with a one minute break. In Teamsparring the sparring time will be 1x2 minutes.

The winner will be determined as follows:

- The leader at the end of the regular time will be the winner.
- At a draw there will be a sudden death in point fighting system.

Teamcompetition:

The winners will be determined as follows:

- The KO System will be used.

If a team leads so far that the other team can not win anymore the match will be ended.

If there is a draw after all matches we will have a deciding match. The coach will suggest the competitor for the deciding match and will notify the judge before the match.

If there is a draw in the deciding match the match will continue in sudden death.

Protests

Written protests are acceptable..

The protest can only be given by the coach directly after a match. The rule of the tournament directors is valid. The competition rules are provided by the tournament directors before the competition.
